

Area:

This table stores information on Area objects.

Each record represents a separate Area object.

Each Area object can contain multiple Production Line objects, and multiple Area objects can be added to a single Site object.